if I do ... and if I did ...

Compare these examples:

(1) LISA: Shall we take the bus or the train?

JESS: If we take the bus, it will be cheaper.

For Jess, it is possible that they will take the bus, so she says:

If we take the bus, it will be ...

(2) Lisa and Jess decide to take the train. Later, Jess talks to Joe.

JOE: How are you going to travel?

JESS: We're going to take the train. If we took the bus, it would be cheaper, but the train is quicker.

Now Jess knows they are not going to take the bus, so she says:

If we took the bus, it would be ...

When we talk about something that will not happen, or we don't expect that it will happen, we use if + past (if we went / if there was etc.).

But the meaning is not past:

- What would you do if you won a lot of money? (I don't really expect this to happen)
- If there was an election tomorrow, who would you vote for?
 - (there will not be an election tomorrow)
- ☐ I'd be surprised if they didn't come to the party. (I expect them to come)

Compare if I find and if I found:

I think I left my watch at your house. If you find it, can you call me?

but

If you found a wallet in the street, what would you do with it?

We do not normally use would in the if-part of the sentence:

- i'd be very scared if somebody pointed a gun at me. (not if somebody would point)
- If we went by bus, it would be cheaper. (not If we would go)

In the other part of the sentence (not the if-part) we use would ('d) / wouldn't:

- l'd be (= I would be) scared if somebody pointed a gun at me.
- ☐ I'm not going to bed yet. I'm not tired. If I went to bed now, I wouldn't sleep.
- What would you do if you were bitten by a snake?

Could and might are also possible:

- If I won a lot of money, I might buy a house.
 (= it is possible that I would buy a house)
- If it stopped raining, we could go out.
 - (= we would be able to go out)

if I knew ... I wish I knew ...

A Study this example situation:

Sarah wants to phone Paul, but she can't do this because she doesn't know his number. She says:

l'd phone him if I knew his number.

(I'd phone = I would phone)

Sarah doesn't know Paul's number, so she says 'if I knew'. She *imagine*s what she would do if she knew his number.

When we imagine a situation like this, we use $\mathbf{if} + past$ ($\mathbf{if} \mid \mathbf{knew} / \mathbf{if}$ you $\mathbf{were} / \mathbf{if}$ we $\mathbf{didn't}$ etc.). But the meaning is present, not past:

- There are many things I'd like to do if I had more time. (but I don't have time)
- If I didn't want to go to the party, I wouldn't go. (but I want to go)
- If you were in my position, what would you do?
- It's a pity he can't drive. It would be useful if he could.
- We use the past in the same way after wish (I wish I knew / I wish you were etc.).

 We use wish to say that we regret something, that something is not as we would like it to be:
 - Uwish I knew Paul's phone number.
 - (= I don't know it and I regret this)
 - Do you ever wish you could fly? (you can't fly)
 - It's very crowded here. I wish there weren't so many people. (there are a lot of people)
 - I wish I didn't have to work tomorrow, but unfortunately I do.

Compare:

- i'm glad I live here. (I live here and that's good)
- Use I wish I lived here. (I don't live here unfortunately)

After if and wish, you can use were instead of was (if I were / I wish it were etc.). You can also use was. So you can say:

ou carraiso asc was. so you carrsay.

- If I were you, I wouldn't buy that coat. or If I was you, ...
- I'd go for a walk if it weren't so cold.I wish Anna were here.I wish Anna was here.
 -) Twish Aima were here.
- We do not usually say 'if ... would'. We use would ('d) in the other part of the sentence:
 - ☐ If I were rich, I would travel a lot. (not If I would be rich)
 - Who would you ask if you needed help? (not if you would need)

In the same way we say:

- □ I wish I had something to read. (not I wish I would have)
- Uwish she were here now. (not I wish she would be)

For 'I wish ... would ...' see Unit 41.

Could sometimes means 'would be able to' and sometimes 'was/were able to':

- She could get a better job (she could get = she would be able to get)
 - if she could speak another language. (if she could speak = if she was able to speak)
- ☐ I wish I could help you.
 (I wish I could = I wish I was able)

if I had known ... I wish I had known ...

Α	Study this example situation:
	Last month Gary was in hospital for a few days. Rachel didn't know this. A few days ago they met by chance. Rachel said:
	If I'd known you were in hospital, I would have gone to visit you. (= I didn't know, so I didn't go to visit you)
	If I'd known = If I had known. This tells us that she didn't know before.
	We use if + had ('d) to talk about the past (if I'd known / if you'd done etc.): I didn't see you when you passed me in the street. If I'd seen you, I would have said hello. They didn't go out last night. They would have gone out if they hadn't been so tired. (but they were tired) If you'd been looking where you were going, you wouldn't have walked into the wall. (but you weren't looking) The view was wonderful. I would have taken some pictures if I'd had (= if I had had) a camera with me. (but I didn't have a camera) Compare: I'm not hungry. If I was hungry, I would eat something. (now) I wasn't hungry. If I had been hungry, I would have eaten something. (past)
В	We do not say 'if something would have happened'. We use would in the other part of the sentence:
	☐ If I had seen you, I would have said hello. (not If I would have seen you)
	The short form 'd can be would or had: If I'd seen you, (I'd seen = I had seen) I'd have said hello. (I'd have said = I would have said)
С	We use had done/known/been etc. in the same way after wish .
	wish something had happened = I am sorry that it didn't happen wish something hadn't happened = I am sorry that it happened I wish I'd known that Gary was ill. I would have gone to see him. (but I didn't know) I feel sick. I wish I hadn't eaten so much. (I ate too much) Do you wish you'd studied science instead of languages? (you didn't study science)
	Compare: I'm glad I saw him. (= I saw him) I wish I'd seen him. (= I didn't see him)
	We do not say 'wish would have'. The weather was cold. I wish it had been warmer. (not I wish it would have been)
D	Compare would (do) and would have (done): If I'd gone to the party last night, I would be tired now. (I am not tired now – present) If I'd gone to the party last night, I would have met lots of people. (I didn't meet lots of people – past)
	Compare would have, could have and might have:
	 If the weather hadn't been so bad, we would have gone out. (= we would have been able to go out) we might have gone out. (= maybe we would have gone out)

40.1	Р	ut the verb into the correct form.

		You say:
	6	You moved to a new flat a few months ago. Now you don't like your new flat. You think that moving was a bad idea.
		You say:

A	We say 'wish somebody luck / all the best / success' etc.: I wish you all the best in the future. I saw Mark before the exam and he wished me luck. We say 'wish somebody something' (luck, happiness etc.), but we do not say 'I wish something happens'. We use hope in this situation: I'm sorry you're not well. I hope you feel better soon. (not I wish you feel) Compare I wish and I hope: I wish you a pleasant stay at this hotel. I hope you enjoy your stay at this hotel. (not I wish you enjoy)
В	We also use wish to say that we regret something, that something is not as we would like it. When we use wish in this way, we use the past (knew/lived etc.), but the meaning is present : I wish I knew what to do about the problem. (but I don't know) I wish you didn't have to go so soon. (but you have to go) Do you wish you lived near the sea? (you don't live near the sea) Jack's going on a trip to Mexico soon. I wish I was going too. (but I'm not going) To say that we regret something that happened before, we use wish + had known / had said etc.: I wish I'd known about the party. I'd have gone if I'd known. (but I didn't know) It was a stupid thing to say. I wish I hadn't said it. (but I said it) See also Units 39 and 40.
С	I wish I could (do something) = I regret that I cannot do it: ☐ I'm sorry you have to go. I wish you could stay longer. (but you can't) ☐ I've met that man before. I wish I could remember his name. (but I can't) I wish I could have (done something) = I regret that I could not do it: ☐ I hear the party was great. I wish I could have gone. (but I couldn't go)
D	You can say 'I wish something would happen'. For example: I wish it would stop raining. I wish it would stop raining. I wish it would stop raining. Tanya would like the rain to stop, but this will probably not happen. We use I wish would when we would like something to happen or change. We often use I wish would to complain about a situation: The phone has been ringing for five minutes. I wish somebody would answer it. I wish you'd do (= you would do) something instead of just sitting and doing nothing.
	You can use I wish wouldn't to complain about things that people do repeatedly: I wish you wouldn't keep interrupting me. (= please stop interrupting me)
E	We use I wish would to say that we want something to happen. We do not use I wish would to say how we would like things to be. Compare: I wish Sarah would come. (= I want her to come) I wish Sarah was (or were) here now. (not I wish Sarah would be) I wish somebody would buy me a car. I wish I had a car. (not I wish I would have)
